"Certainly it is doomed to failure if undertaken with no more men than are now there or on the way. Great Britain does not seem disposed to send an adequate force, and Francisco on the minimum army that can hope to accomplish anything in the glob alone. The minimum army that can hope to accomplish anything in the salkan is 400,000 men. As that number is not being sent, that is my proof that it is Greece that must pay for the failure of the Allied Balkan venture.

"If the Entente will assure me that, when they are driven back into Greek territory, they will consider the Balkan game ended, reëmbark and leave Greece, I will guarantee with my whole army to protect their retreat against the Germans, Bulgarians or anybody else, and give them time to ambark without being endangered. Then I would be legitimately protecting my frontiers, and it would not involve Greece in further risks. More I cannot do.

"The Entente's demand is too much.
